RUHR MINES AND RAILROADS PARALYZED AS GERMANS STRIKE

Council in Paris To Decide Next Step—Secessionists Become Active and Further Exasperate Berlin—Arrested Magistrates To Be Arraigned.

(By International News Service.)
Telegraph to The Freeman.

Today's developments in the Rhineland are:

Following out a policy of "passive resistance," German coal miners in the Rhineland today refused to work the mines. Thousands of railroad workers quit and mine operations and transportation in the occupied regions were paralyzed.

Marshal Foch in Paris advised a ministerial council upon further military measures that may be necessary to offset the effects of a general strike. Premier Poincaré presided.

General Degoutte, French commander-in-chief in the Rhineland, refused the demand of the German miners' unions that the coal operators be arrested Saturday be released. They will be arraigned tomorrow.

French troops were withdrawn from the occupied branches of the Reichsbahn in Rhineland cities. Acting under French and Belgian protection, leaders in the German movement for separating the Rhineland from Germany, are becoming active in the occupied zones.

Representatives of German coal and iron magnates arrive in London today. Reported they will purchase coal and steel in the United States.

Reparations commission met in Paris, but the French failed to submit their proposals for a German indemnity moratorium because they were not complete.

Amsterdam hears a report from Berlin that treason proceedings may be commenced against Germans who are agitating for secession of the Rhineland from Germany.

Essen, Jan. 22.—German labor in the Ruhr coal fields, following orders from Berlin and the dictates of their union leaders, flung defiance today to the face of the French today by refusing to mine any more coal.

Large numbers of railway and mill workers already had quit. Coal production and transportation is paralyzed. French troops are being utilized to move trains and run machinery.

"Passive resistance" against the French occupation has gradually spread during the past 24 hours throughout the great industrial and mining belts of Westphalia. Orders to the miners to quit work were issued after a series of trade union meetings on Sunday.

The French military authorities warned the unions that drastic measures would be taken unless the men resumed operations. They threatened to tie up the transportation of food and other necessities into the occupied zone, except the railroads for the French occupational troops.

The walkout was described as a "folded arms strike" with the men entering the mines, but refusing to handle their tools.

There was a meeting of the French military council at Dusseldorf, presided over by General Degoutte when it was decided to requisition German labor. It is understood that the French plan to militarize all the railroads in the occupied districts to compel German railway men to work.

Encouraged by the French and German Rhineland secessionists, headed by Dr. Dörten, are becoming more active. It is reported that Dr. Dörten has been in Dusseldorf on a mysterious mission. He is planning to call German meetings in favor of Rhineland separation from Germany and to issue separatist propaganda pamphlets.

The Director Ahrens of one of the Prussian state-owned mines at Buer, who was arrested Friday, was released today as a sop to the workers. He was enthusiastically received when he returned to his mine.

COUNCIL'S BUS DECISION HOLDS

Justice Rosch in Decision Just Handed Down Holds the Common Council Was Within Its Powers in Refusing Terwilliger's Bus Petition.

Supreme Court Justice Rosch in a decision just handed down holds that the common council was within its powers in refusing to grant the application of James A. Terwilliger for permission to operate a bus line over the city streets. The decision is the result of an application for a peremptory writ of mandamus made by Frank W. Brooks, an attorney for Mr. Terwilliger. Corporation Counsel Walter N. Gill represented the common council.

Justice Rosch's decision follows: "The applicant procured a writ of mandamus requiring the common council to act upon his petition. The common council did act and refused to grant petitioner's application.

"I do not believe the court has the power to grant a peremptory writ of mandamus requiring the common council to reverse its decision. The action of the common council under Section 26 of the Transportation Corporation Law is more than a mere ministerial act. The law requires a public notice and hearing and consent of the local authorities upon such terms and conditions as said local authorities may prescribe. It is no answer to say that the common council has no power over the city streets.

"This proceeding is instituted by the petitioner on the theory that they have power to act. Having acted by denying the petitioner's request, it is not the province of the court to substitute its decision. The writ should not be granted except in case of absolute right and then only by exercise of proper discretion. The purpose of a peremptory writ of mandamus is to compel action, not to compel action in a particular way.

"Application denied with $10 costs."

FIGHTING GOES ON IN IRELAND

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dublin, Jan. 22.—A five-hour battle in which the Republican irregulars were routed, was reported from West Cork today. Commandant Hurley of the irregulars, was captured at Kibrittain. He swam two rivers in an attempt to escape. Commandant Victor Sweeney of the irregular forces, at Cloanahilly was killed in battle after the Republicans had ambushed a detachment of Free Staters.

Free Staters are rounding up the irregulars in Tipperary, who have been conducting daily raids for a week.

Wonderly Store Closed AN HOUR TUESDAY

Owing to the death of the father of C. E. Wonderly of the Wonderly Co., Wall street, the store will be closed Tuesday morning from 9 to 10 o'clock during the funeral hour. Mr. Wonderly's father died at Columbia, Pa., after a brief illness of pneumonia.

French and Belgian forces, although he is remaining in Paris. The marshal conferred twice with Premier Poincaré and later with members of the general staff.

The Rhineland situation has been brought to a crisis by the refusal of the German miners to work the mines. It is a test of endurance with everything in favor of the French.

Rhineland advices to Parisian newspapers reported German troop movements. According to the Matin, General Ludendorff reviewed the Reichswehr near Muenster, although there is only a handful of German military police stationed in that region.

Conflicting advices were received regarding the labor situation in the occupied zones. One report was that local strikes had extended into a general strike. Another (printed by the Petit Parisien) was that the men decided to go into the mines, where they would stand during work hours with folded arms, refusing to do any labor.

DEBATE SMITH'S "WET" MEASURE

Plea to Congress for Wine and Beer Likely to Pass Senate but Assembly Action Not Easy to Forecast.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Jan. 22.—Debate on the Democratic resolution memorializing Congress to modify the Volstead law so as to permit the sale of light wine and beer, is expected to feature tonight's session of the legislature.

The resolution is sponsored by Senator James J. Walker, Democratic leader in the senate, and Assemblyman Charles D. Donohue, minority leader in the assembly. It carries out a recommendation made by Governor Smith in his message to the lawmakers.

Indications are the resolution will be adopted in the senate, but its fate in the assembly appears doubtful. No less than ten up-state dry assemblymen are expected to lead an attack on the resolution. But a number of the up-state Republican members from various cities are known to be "wet," and it is possible that their votes, with the Democrats, will be sufficient to pass the resolution in the lower house.

A bill to extend the rent laws to all up-state cities will be introduced shortly by Senator William T. Byrne, Democrat, of Albany. Senator John J. Dunnigan, of New York, chairman of the legislative housing committee, has declared the committee would back such a measure. This action by Senator Byrne is the result of reports that landlords in many up-state cities are preparing to demand big rent increases the first of May.

There was considerable talk at the last session of the Legislature of such a measure, but no one acted. The resolution offered by Assemblyman Goodrich of Westchester, asking Governor Smith if he had not prejudged the case of Walter W. Law, Jr., President of the State Tax Commission, against whom the Governor preferred charges of incompetency, was to come up for debate tonight, but it probably will be put over until later in the week. The reason for this is, according to reports, that the Republicans in the Assembly want to wait until the Governor has disposed of the charges against Law, and in the event that Law is ousted, the Republicans plan to call up the resolution and fire a broadside of criticism at the Chief Executive.

Legislative leaders expect the various committees in both Senate and Assembly will get down to some real work this week. Tomorrow the Senate judiciary committee is scheduled to report out the bills carrying out Governor Smith's reconstruction program. Hearings on many important bills will start not later than next week.

It is possible the Governor will send a special message to the lawmakers this week dealing with state control and state development of waterpower. The Governor's transit and municipal ownership measures are now being prepared. It is not expected, however, they will be introduced much before the middle of February.

BURIED 18 HOURS IN SNOW, BOY LIVES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Rescued after he had been entombed in a snowbank for 18 hours, Antonio Falcone, 12, of this city, is in a critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today, his recovery uncertain. The boy was caught in the cave-in of his snow hut.

That the boy lives is believed almost a miracle, for when he was dug from the pile of snow, with his clothing frozen upon him, it was only the moving of an eyelid that told he was not dead, as had been feared when he was found.

Then hands worked over him feverishly to restore him to consciousness, his frozen clothing being cut from his body, and he was hurried to the hospital. It was some time before he was revived, and when he opened his eyes and looked about the hospital ward, his first words were: "I am not sick."

HUSBAND AND WIFE KILLED; COTTAGE FIRED.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 22.—No motives had been uncovered today for the brutal murders of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Frazier McLeish. The battered bodies were discovered when help was called to extinguish a fire in the gardener's lodge on the Fitzsimmons estate. It is believed the murderer fired the cottage, hoping to wipe out evidence of the crime.

The crimes were reconstructed today for the slain gardener's employers, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzsimmons, the latter the former Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt. Police believe Mrs. McLeish, a comely woman of about 30 years, was the first attacked. She was killed by a single blow on the head, probably with a hammer or axe. Her husband, it is indicated, waged a furious battle with the murderer. He was struck at least four times on the head, probably with the same weapon that caused his wife's death.

ACTRESS DEAD FROM MERCURIAL POISONING.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 22.—In spite of heroic last minute efforts to save her life through the transfusion of blood, Mrs. Anna Rivoli Fanzetta, actress, died today as the result of a overdose of mercury poisoning. The woman, respondent, swallowed the poison and fell in the street. Her father, Joseph Rivoli, submitted to the transfusion operation Sunday.

For more than two weeks the woman had hovered between life and death, and because of her refusal to aid in the fight for recovery, hope was practically abandoned. Early last week a slight improvement in her condition was noted and for a day or two she seemed to be gaining strength, but it proved only temporary.

U. S. IS FORTUNATE; HAS NO UNEMPLOYMENT.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 22.—While England has 2,000,000 jobless on her hands and unemployment exists to a varying degree in many other countries, industry throughout the United States is getting back into its stride. It was disclosed today in government reports.

Unemployment in the United States decreased 2.4 in December over the preceding month, according to a survey conducted in 3,294 representative manufacturing establishments. There is now virtually no unemployment in this country, officials said.

In accepting the resignation, John A. T. Schwartz, at the request of President Edgar B. Starbuck, expressed the appreciation of the organization of the services rendered by the retiring secretary. Mr. Schwartz said Mr. Canfield had worked faithfully and well for all projects which stood for progress in the community. Mr. Canfield has attended several conventions of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries and has been affiliated with the Hudson Valley Federated Chamber of Commerce. While in Saratoga Springs he was secretary of the Automobile Club and the winter sports committee.

BUS LINES STILL HAVING TROUBLE

New Palz Bus Gets To Tschurky's—Saugerties Busses Running and One to Esopus.

The rainstorm of Saturday night and Sunday made auto traffic halt, and conditions were such that the bus lines had difficulty in making trips Sunday. The New Palz-Kingston bus line has been able to open the road to within four miles of New Palz and is now operating from Kingston as far as Oscar Tschurky's place. It is expected to make another effort to open the remaining four miles this evening so that traffic through to New Palz may be resumed.

The Phenicia bus lines from Kingston are still halted, and the Highland bus has not been heard from for over a week.

The Saugerties auto busses were making their trips today, but the High Palz-Stone Ridge bus and the Ellenville bus, which have been making their trips for a few days to this city in way of Rosendale, had not arrived at the Kingston Hotel terminal at noon.

The Every bus line makes a morning and an afternoon trip to Esopus. School children find this very convenient.

An attempt was made Sunday to open the road from Phenicia to Kingston when during the soft spell Merriher brothers started out with one of their busses. Owing to the rain the snow had been softened but not enough to make traveling easy for a car. When near Mt. Tremper the rear end of the bus broke and the passenger were transferred to another machine which was summoned by telephone. During the afternoon numerous cars made use of the track which had been broken by the bus from Phenicia to Mt. Tremper but the going was very bad. It is said that in some places between Kingston and Cold Brook the snow drifts were several feet deep, that stretch of road along Temple's Pond being exceptionally bad.

Shed Roof Collapsed.

The roof of a fifty foot shed owned by George P. Vogel, mason contractor, on Van Buren street, under which he stored scaffolding and ladders, collapsed Sunday because of the heavy weight of water soaked snow.

LAUSANNE CONFERENCE, LITTLE DONE, ON EVE OF COLLAPSE

Curzon and Barrere Announce They Will Leave For Home—Fixing of Thracian Boundaries, Agreed on Beforehand, Conferees' Only Achievement.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Lausanne, Jan. 22.—There was every indication today that the Near East peace conference has begun to break up. Mr. Barrere, head of the French delegation, announced that ill health has compelled him to withdraw from the conference.

Lord Curzon, head of the British delegation, stated that he would leave for home within a few days.

Although the conference has been in session almost continuously since the middle of November, it has accomplished practically nothing beyond establishing new frontiers in Thrace. These had virtually been agreed upon before the parley opened.

Questions that are still hanging fire are: Future status of the Turkish straits, boundaries of Turkey in Asia; future of Mosul; Turkish national debt and measures for safeguarding lives and interests of foreigners in Turkey.

DEATH REPORT EXAGGERATED

Police Found That Mr. Kouhoudt Had Not Killed His Wife Sunday Afternoon at the Family Home in Wilbur—Found Her in Tears But Unhurt.

The telephone bell in police headquarters rang shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and as Sergeant Hanley answered it a woman's voice implored him to hurry the police to the home of John Kouhoudt on De Witt street, in Wilbur. "He has just murdered his wife," said the voice.

Sergeant Hanley lost no time in hurrying Officer Fatum to the scene of the supposed murder, and when the officer arrived it was to find Mrs. Kouhoudt sitting on the floor, her face bathed in tears. There was not a mark on her.

In reply to inquiries Mrs. Kouhoudt assured the officer that the report of her death was slightly exaggerated.

The rumor of a murder in Wilbur Sunday spread throughout the city, but like most rumors was without foundation. Mrs. Kouhoudt is still living and from all appearances will enjoy many more years on earth.

PRAYER BRIDE HAS A 10-CENT HONEYMOON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Orange, N. J., Jan. 22.—George Hermann Lawson, the "prayer bride" whose prayers were finally answered after many setbacks, today told how he and his "heavenly mate," former Newark laundry worker, saw New York on their honeymoon for forty cents.

"I certainly was thankful that my wife was too much engrossed in seeing the sights to want to spend money on theatres and other worldly amusements," the pastor said. "For I only had 40 cents left after the ceremony. But I got through the honeymoon all right."

THOMAS CASE RESUMED IN COUNTY COURT.

In the case of The People vs. Henry Thomas, charged with robbery, first degree, which was taken up in county court during the last of the past week, a jury was completed late Friday afternoon.

Through an error The Freeman stated that but eleven jurors had been selected when court adjourned.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Although his condition is much improved, President Harding again stayed away from his desk in the executive offices today and remained in his study nursing the severe cold from which he has been suffering for a week.

SUNDAY HITS OUT AT GOMPER'S

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 22.—A vigorous attack on Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and a demand for his resignation because of his attitude on prohibition, was made here today by Billy Sunday, the evangelist.

Sunday said prohibition, from a standpoint of actual statistics, has done more for the working man than "anything since the signing of the declaration of independence."

"If Gompers has nothing more important to do than campaign for the liquor interests, he has no business at the head of any organization that should be the backbone of the nation," Sunday said, "and I call upon him to resign and give a decent man a chance."

POST OFFICE ANXIOUS TO BE IN "FIRST TEN"

Postmaster DeWitt was notified by the New York office of the Government Savings System today that the ten highest first class post offices in the district sales of Treasury Savings Certificates during December did not include Kingston.

The postmaster states that he believes there is still a considerable amount of 1918 War Savings Stamps outstanding. He says, "If these tardy holders will bring their stamps to the post office we will be glad to explain to them the advantages of Treasury Savings Certificates for the re-investment of War Savings money and as a medium for systematic saving."

"Our community should not allow any other city of equal size to display more business sense and appreciation of safe investment opportunities than Kingston."

CALIS DR. GRANT'S A "FLOATING INTELLECT"

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, under fire in the Episcopal Church because of his "advanced views," is the victim of a "floating intellect."

This stinging characterization of the New York divine, made by the Rev. Walter Leopold Bennett in the First Reformed Church here, left local church circles gasping today.

Dr. Bennett said: "Percy Stickney Grant has no right or title to the degree, doctor of divinity. His ignorance of the first principles of Christianity is astonishing. He rails about the conclusions of intellectual men in this twentieth century in the matter of the Person of the Christ in a way that demonstrates beyond cavil that he suffers from a grievous spiritual disease, 'floating intellect.'"

MRS. EFFIE HORNBECK HAS RETURNED TO HER HOME.

Her Son Denied That His Mother Swallowed Poison as Reported.

Mrs. Effie Hornbeck of Gill street, who was removed to the Kingston City Hospital several days ago by Dr. Frank A. Johnston and treated for poison, had recovered sufficiently to return to her home on Saturday.

Her son, Melton Hornbeck, has asked The Freeman to make public the following: "The son of Mrs. Hornbeck contradicts the story of his mother taking poison. It was an overdose of heart medicine. It was not a family quarrel as stated. My father and my mother had not quarreled. The neighbors had told the doctor that it was poison hooch, but my mother hadn't any hooch. Mrs. Hornbeck is improving slightly under the care of Dr. H. Van Nosttrand."

"A TAILOR MADE MAN"100 INDICTMENTS
AGAINST KLANSMENThis is State's Aim at Bastrop—
Five Already Linked With Double Murder—Burnett Out On Bail.By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan.
22—The state of Louisiana today launched a closing drive to wreak belated justice on the "black masks" of Morehouse parish, who climaxed their terrorist rule with the brutal murders of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards last August.A net of circumstantial evidence has been spun at the open hearing involving a score of members of the Ku Klux Klan in depredations of the "black masks," and it was the purpose of state prosecutors to involve the Klan as an organization in the "hooded mob" murders. New evidence, said to place responsibility for the reign of terror squarely on the Klan, was in the hands of the state authorities ready for use at the open hearing.Five Klansmen, one of them the son of Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted Cyclops, have been identified as members of the "hooded murder mob" which kidnapped Daniel and Richards with three companions last August. The two men never returned alive from the custody of this mob and their mutilated bodies were later found floating in Lake Lafourche. The five are T. Jeff Burnett, former sheriff, E. Newt Grey, church deacon, and wealthy planter, Oliver Skipwith, son of the cyclops, Smith Stevenson, former policeman, and "Blacksmith" Smith, said to have been a guard on the murder truck.Announcement was made today that additional identifications of the murder mob members will be made through witnesses who were halted by the masked band during the kidnapping of Daniel and Richards. Reports were current that the name of Dr. Bunne McKoin, charged with murder as the alleged leader of the mob, will be linked to the murders in testimony for the first time. McKoin was previously identified as the leader of the "black masks" who deported Miss Addie
Mae Hamilton, a Mer Rouge girl.Openly charging the Ku Klux Klan with responsibility for the whole reign of terror in Morehouse parish, the state prosecutors planned to link the organization directly with the murders of Daniel and Richards. The state has attempted to prove the Klan's responsibility for other outrages through the identification of mob leaders as recognized Klan officials. A score of witnesses have testified that Captain J. K. Skipwith, Klan chieftain, on kidnapping and whipping expeditions it was believed similar action would be taken to link the Klan with the murders.Attorney General A. V. Coco fresh from a conference with Governor John M. Parker renewed his declaration that one hundred indictments would be asked of the parish grand jury when the open hearing is completed. A special indictment against all officials of the Ku Klux Klan here will also be asked. The possible action of the grand jury however remains a riddle.There will be no arrests, it was learned until after the grand jury has acted. If indictments are refused the state then will take special action through informations, a special proceeding permitted by Louisiana law. The prosecution then would be conducted independently of all local authorities.T. Jeff Burnett, who is the second man charged with murder in the present investigation was at his home in Spiker near here, today at liberty under $5,000 bail. The granting of bail to Burnett it was learned was a move of the attorney-general's staff and was not desired by the accused man's attorneys.The attorney general's office arranged the bail it was said, over the heads of defense attorneys in order to prevent the incarceration of Burnett who is ill, to be used to win sympathy for him. The defense attorneys also intended to institute proceedings to get Burnett released but in such a way as to force the state to reveal all the evidence it holds against him. Under the circumstances, the state won a decided victory.

THE TYRANNY OF TRADE.

The women of Bradley Beach, N. J., who have appealed to the authorities of that community to assist them in keeping the short skirt "in fashion," are barking up the wrong tree, so to speak. Probably none of the city fathers of Bradley Beach object to the short skirt, and doubtless some of them think it adds greatly to the charms of the local landscape. But they are without jurisdiction in the matter and are quite helpless. The women agitators are equally helpless. Women are often criticized for the "freak fashions" which they "slavishly" follow, but they are in no way responsible. As is the case with men, they must accept, like obedient children and whether they like it or not, whatever new "mode" is decreed by the powers ruling in such matters. The only difference is that the fashions for women change more frequently and more radically than the fashions for men, the one conceivable explanation of this difference being the greater willingness of the masses of men to wear old clothes.

The despot with absolute power in this matter is trade, or the commercial interests that unite to foster trade, to force people to buy new outfits, by continual changes in the fashions. The short skirt, for example, was not decreed because it was more becoming or more sanitary, but because it was a radical change that would rush women to the dealers in women's wear, thus promoting trade and swelling profits. The only possible escape from this tyranny will be found when the women of wealth and influence in every community have their clothes made to order according to their own taste, disregarding the new modes. But the fear of being "out of fashion" is likely to prevent the application of this remedy in the future as it has in the past.

NOTHING TO REGRET AT 90.

Though one of the "eminent Victorians" of a bygone time, Frederic Harrison lived on in good health, with continuing bodily and mental activity, and has just died at the extra-good old age of 91. The world has moved a long way during his life time, for as a lad he witnessed the coronation of Queen Victoria. His activities and interests were remarkably varied. He was professor of jurisprudence at Oxford, historian and biographer, literary critic, an outspoken radical in religion and politics, an aggressive student of social economy, a champion of the workingman and social justice. Through it all he is said never to have lost his faith in "a supreme Providence, in an immortal soul, and in spiritual life."

One of the pronounced characteristics of this many-sided and widely active man appears to have been a self-confidence of an uncommon completeness, for on his 90th birthday he was quoted as saying: "I regret nothing done or said in my long and busy life. I withdraw nothing, and am not conscious of any change in mind." In one way such self-contentment is fortunate, for it is inevitably a source of power. But can such self-contentment go hand in hand with real and true self-improvement? Surely the man who can think of nothing to regret at ninety, and would change nothing in his long and colorful past, must be unhappily blind to his own inevitable imperfections and mistakes.

Governor Smith's attitude seems to be, when you've got the money spend it. This was indicated by the appointment of George W. Goethals as fuel administrator at $100 per day. The retiring administrator gave his services to the state.

In spite of the reports from Washington the New York World wagers that the Republicans will not go to the voters in 1924 as the extra dry party. "The surest thing in the world," it says, "is that both parties will be at once wet, dry and moist."

No department in the state service has greater responsibilities than the tax commission. It is not alone the jobs, but the influence. The Democrats want that bureau, and it is apparent that nothing can stop them from taking it over. The present head, Walter W. Law, Jr., refused to resign and he applied the new slogan, "You show me, Al." Commissioner Law's determination proves conclusively that he is not afraid to be investigated; in fact, he welcomes an investigation. The charges against Commissioner Law are about the simplest ever made and it required audacity to make them.

3. What does the duckbill of Australia and Tasmania look like?

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. I got some cones from the largest sequoia trees while traveling in California and planted one in the fall. Why didn't it sprout?
Probably you do not happen to get a cone with fertile seed—only about 25 per cent of the sequoia's seed is fertile, according to Elliott's Important Timber Trees of the U. S. Or perhaps conditions of climate and soil were not right.
2. Are ants blind?
Some species that live in dark places are thought to be blind; but this is not true of most ants, which have both compound eyes and ocelli. Queens and males have both sorts of eyes; workers of some species are without ocelli. Usually male ants have the greatest number of facets to their compound eyes, according to Lubbock, the famous authority on ants. He says that the number of facets appear to increase with the size of the insect rather than with the power of vision.
3. How do robins know where to strike to pull a worm out of the soil?
Of course any answer is guess work; the bird students argue that since robins stop and turn the head every few steps when hunting worms, thus bringing the ears closer to the ground, they must be listening for some motion of the prey in its underground burrow. They probably strike in the direction of this sound. As obviously the sense of sight is not used, and presumably not that of smell—as birds do not seem to smell keenly—hearing seems the most reasonable guiding sense.

JURIST SCORES ALIEN PARASITES

Dangers Of Immigration From Southern Europe Cited By Judge Clearwater To Bar Association.

The Herrin massacre was cited as an example of the results of mistaken immigration policy in past years and as a result of mistaken and weak policy at present which permits alien groups to remain alien groups, in an address which was made by Judge A. T. Clearwater, at the meeting of the New York State Bar Association.

"Instead of a melting pot," he continued, "we have here a dissolvent. Melting-pot is but a misleading metaphor, as is indicated by the foreign language test, for there are many hundreds of newspapers printed in forty-two languages, and many foreign-language schools which, as well as has been said, disseminate the poison of surviving nationalism, forming a disturbing factor in those sections of the country in which immigrants from other nations have gathered in such preponderant numbers as to set up replicas of their native lands."

Besides allowing the United States to become dotted with small areas which are in effect foreign countries embedded in American soil, the country has in recent years attracted a type of immigration differing from the sturdier stocks of an earlier time, both in character, physique and purpose for coming here, according to the speaker.

After describing the religious and political motives that inspired earlier immigrants, Judge Clearwater continued:

"The later immigrant comes with the notion that, if he works hard and is not too scrupulous, he may acquire sufficient to enable him to return to his home in 'Southern' or 'Eastern' Europe, or in Western Asia, there to spend his later days in comfortable idleness."

After analyzing census figures showing that ninety-seven out of a hundred of the immigrants from Northwestern Europe could read and write, while 35 per cent of the immigrants from Southern and Eastern Europe and Asia were illiterate, Judge Clearwater gave figures showing the large proportion of insane patients who came from the later stock of immigrants. He asserted that the new immigrants had no understanding of or interest in American ideals and came here only to get money as quickly as possible in order to return to live at ease in the homeland.

"The inevitable result," he continued, "is that the great mass of immigrants today do not seek the west and the northwest as did their predecessors, but they flock into the cities of the east, and thus in the cities east of the Mississippi we have Ghettos, Little Italys, Little Hungaries, Little Polands, the members of which are eager to be made citizens of the United States, not that they may assist in the development and proper government of the country, but in order that the vote which citizenship brings with it may be turned into merchandise and sold to those bosses whose misgovernment has made the administration of our municipalities a shame and a hissing throughout the civilized world."

"There are Americans with whom optimism is a cult, who regard it as reactionary to criticize American tendencies, American negligence, American carelessness, American incompetency; and who deludedly accept the latest Gallic fantasy salarized by Aristophanes 2,500 years ago. They believe that every day and all day, and in every way, we are growing better and better and are content and satisfied to be praised for virtues we do not possess."

"To these genial visionaries I commend the careful consideration of two instances, widely separated as to locality, but identical in inspiration."

Judge Clearwater's first illustration was the massacre at Herrin, which he described in vivid style.

"Consider now this incident, which took place not in a western mining town, but in this, the most princely city of this republic, and almost within the sound of my voice," continued Judge Clearwater.

"On the 26th of last month the annual convention of the Workers' Party of America held at the Labor Temple in this town unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the workers of America to join in a movement to force the government of the United States to recognize Soviet Russia and to grant to the Soviet a large and long-time loan."

"A further resolution unanimously was adopted calling for the political unity of all revolutionary elements in the United States in order that the revolutionary spirit might be strengthened and its ends more effectively promoted. The American Legion was denounced in a separate resolution as an enemy of the working class and an auxiliary of the capitalistic class; and workers who had been led to join it were urged to leave it."

"It is to be noted that an explanation of all this is to be sought in the fact that about one-half of our total population consists of morons, persons of stunted, 13-year-old intelligence, who cannot think adult fashion and who cannot be taught so to think. If this be a real and adequate explanation of the phenomena that surrounds us, then the cause of popular government, of civil liberty, of intellectual, moral and social progress, and of international cooperation has burdens to bear that have not hitherto been suspected."

GAS BUGGIES—The Best Little Feeling in the World

NATURELAND NEWS

"I shall read along the latest copy of the Natureland News," said Witty Witch to the Fairies and the Elves, the Brownies and the Gnomes, old Mr. Giant and the Bogey family and the Oaf family.

So all the Fairyland people settled themselves most comfortably and Witty Witch began to read all the items of news in the Natureland News.

Many of those present had written the pieces in the Fairyland newspaper but that didn't make any difference.

They quite enjoyed hearing their own writing read aloud!

Witty Witch read very well too, just as she told stories well and just as she arranged wonderful parties with so much ease.

"I see by the paper," began Witty Witch, "that Mr. and Mrs. Robin were seen hopping and walking yesterday. It is said that they can both hop and walk because they spend time on the ground and in the trees."

"I also see by the paper," Witty Witch continued, "that the Chicken children had a party yesterday. It was a very nice party and there were prizes given after the games."

"The prizes were packages of seeds wrapped up in chicken feathers and tied with grass ribbon."

"Miss Carrie Chicken won the first prize in the fast walking races."

"Master Christopher Chicken won the first prize in the seed hunt game. It is said that the seed hunt game is the same as the peanut hunt game which is played by children."

"The Chickens, so the Natureland News wishes to inform its readers, do not hop like the robins but they walk."

"It is supposed to be the custom of birds who sing to hop and of the others to walk. This, the Natureland News learns upon the best authority in the country."

"What the reason for it may be the Natureland News feels is because the song birds are in the trees perhaps more than the others. Then, too, the song birds have the kind of feet which make these ways the best for them."

"Mr. Sparrow, the News learns, has, for example, large hind toes but he wishes to inform all those who are interested in his toes and also all those who are not interested in his toes that his three front toes are very close together and what might be called chummy toes.

"There Were Prizes."

"I also see by the paper," said Witty Witch, as she continued to read the different stories and of news which she saw, "that there has been a gorgeous display of orchids at a botanical garden which is a place where there are many flowers and plants."

"There were fifty different kinds of orchids shown. Some are from the Old World and some from the New World."

"Some being displayed are relatives of our Woodland friends, the Ladyslippers."

"The orchids say that rain water to them is the same as food."

"Some of the orchids especially wanted it said in the Natureland News that they did not take root in trees and live off the trees, but that they took root in dirt and old leaves on the surface of the tree and so did not do the tree any harm."

"They wish the News to stop any stories that are other than the above given, one which is correct."

"Well," ended Witty Witch, "I enjoyed reading the paper aloud and telling you all that was in it. It's certainly nice to hear what is going on these days."

"It certainly is," agreed all the Fairyland people.

How the Dodo Died.

"As dead as the dodo" is a common expression, but few know what manner of bird the dodo was or what drove it from the face of the earth. The dodo was a large bird with a huge beak and useless little wings. Portuguese and Dutch sailors found it on the island of Mauritius in the Indian ocean during the sixteenth century. It was so stupid that the Portuguese named it "doudo," meaning simpleton. Pigs introduced into the island by the Europeans destroyed the dodo's eggs and young, and so it became extinct in the seventeenth century.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(C. 1922, Western Newspaper Union)

It is wonderful how large a little bit of a fraction will grow, if you only multiply it enough.—Robert Beverly Hale.

A VARIETY OF GOOD THINGS

Who does not enjoy a good cake? Packed eggs when carefully kept may be used for such a cake.

Silver Loaf Cake.—Take two and three-fourths cups of pastry flour, one and one-fourth cups of granulated sugar, two-thirds of a cup of water, one-half cup of butter, the whites of seven eggs, three teaspoonsful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of flavoring extract and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Cream the butter and add the sugar, mix until well blended, then add the flour sifted with the dry ingredients, alternating with the water; fold in the stiffly beaten whites and bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

Pound Cake.—Take ten eggs, one pound, or two cups of sugar; one pound, or four cups of flour; three-fourths of a pound, or one and one-half cups of butter; two teaspoonsful of lemon extract; add one teaspoonful of salt. Cream the butter and sugar until white and foamy. Separate the egg yolks from the whites and beat well. Add alternately one heaping tablespoonful of flour with a small portion of the beaten yolk and white, beating the mixture well between each addition of flour and egg. The success of a pound cake depends upon the beating and the baking. Put it in a very slow oven and increase the heat to a moderate oven and bake one hour and a half.

Sweet Apples and Quinces.—Core a half-dozen sweet apples, fill the centers with chopped quince, add sugar and water and bake until well done. Serve as a dessert with whipped cream.

Honey Hermit.—Take one cupful of butter, one and one-half cups of honey, strained, one teaspoonful of soda, three eggs, five cups of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonsful of cinnamon, two and one-fourth cups each of chopped raisins and nut meats. Dissolve the soda in the honey which has been slightly warmed, with the dry ingredients. Add the fruit and nuts last. Drop from a spoon on a buttered sheet and bake in a moderate oven.

Keturah Banks, a quaint New England mother interested in everybody and their business.

John Nelson, a business man from Boston, who runs into a lot of life's troubles during a storm.

FRENCH ROYALIST LEADER KILLED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Jan. 22.—Germaine Berton, a woman anarchist, today assassinated Marius Plateau, leader of the French Royalist, and editor of the Royalist newspaper Acton Française.

The woman tried to commit suicide but failed. She was arrested. Mme. Berton entered the newspaper office with a request to see the editor. When she was shown into M. Plateau's office, she drew a pistol and fired. Employees, attracted by the sound, rushed in.

Acton Française is the most radical of the Royalist press. In this morning's issue, it urged France to send an army to occupy Berlin.

STATE AID AVAILABLE FOR BLIND CHILDREN

There are many people in the community who doubtless have no knowledge of the fact that the state offers very real aid for such blind babies and little children as cannot be given the proper aid by their parents. The state pays $1.50 a day for the maintenance and education of blind children at the Arthur Home at Summit, New Jersey. That is for little folks up to 8 years of age. It has been found that where these little blind children do not receive early education they often become idiotic and so later state charges. At this home they receive the best of care and that special education which is so difficult to give a child blind from infancy. Mrs. Alden has been interested in this work for years, and the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs has its local representative who will be glad to look after any needy cases in this community. Miss Brewster, 5 St. James Court, telephone 431-3, is the person to communicate with if any one knows of any blind child who would be benefited by this aid.

JURY RECOGNIZES TWO ROAD HOGS

Approves Action of Dr. U. T. Kemble in Beating Up Two of Them Who Thought Advantage Was All Their Own.

Ellenville juries will not tolerate road hogs, and by a verdict of not guilty in the case of The People against Dr. Urban T. Kemble last week, a jury at Ellenville approved of a man who administers a sound trouncing to another who refuses to turn out in order that others may enjoy rights of the road which are equal to all. The jury was out three minutes.

Some time ago Dr. Kemble, who lives at Montela on his way to Napanoch with his wife in their Ford runabout. When some distance from Napanoch they came up with a Ford truck driven by two men named Schoonmaker and Van Leuven. Although there was snow on the road, there was plenty of room for the truck to turn out, and at three junctions with other roads the truck could have responded to the horn-signals and shouts of Dr. Kemble. But Schoonmaker and Van Leuven paid no attention to the signals except to turn in their seat and laugh at Dr. Kemble and his wife.

Finally Dr. Kemble told his wife to take the wheel, and jumping from his car he ran ahead until he could climb into the truck. As soon as he was in the truck he shouted to the two men in the front seat and asked them why they did not turn out when signalled. For reply, the one who was driving the car stepped on the gas, sending the car ahead with a spurt, and then shot off the gas and stopped suddenly. The result was that Dr. Kemble was hurled half the length of the truck and through the celluloid and leather curtain at the back of the seat, landing on the shoulders of both men.

A blow from one of the men was returned by Dr. Kemble, and while they were clenched the other tried to hold Dr. Kemble's leg, but he fought him until they took the court, when he resumed his trip to Napanoch in his own car with his wife.

The doctor was arrested on complaint of the men and the case was tried before Police Justice Fitzgerald and a jury at Ellenville last Friday. Ex-Sheriff William S. Doyle, who is president of the village of Ellenville, was foreman of the jury. LeRoy Lounsbury appeared for the complainants and Frank W. Brooks of this city represented Dr. Kemble. At the close of the case, in which the facts were disclosed as stated, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Van Valkenburg was removed from 179 Wall street to the Benedictine Hospital Sunday in the ambulance. This morning Albert Morris was removed from 48 Cedar street to the Kingston City Hospital.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Jan. 22.—Twenty-three members of the Christian Endeavor Society enjoyed a sleighride around the mountain Friday evening, in the sleigh of George Proper. When they returned from the ride they met at the home of Earl Terwilliger on Bowne street, where refreshments were served and games played until the "wee man" hours of morning. The Christian Endeavor Society is composed of young men and young women from the village and the society is in a flourishing condition. John Bigler is the president and he has very able assistants.

There will be a meeting of the Ever Ready Club this evening at the home of Miss Vivian Halliday on Bowne street.

A meeting of the town board was held at the town clerk's office Saturday afternoon. The resignations of Harry Elsworth and Lyman Elsworth as assessors were accepted. Harold V. Story of Ulster Park was elected in the place of Harry Elsworth and L. C. Conn and B. C. Elsworth were nominated in place of Lyman Elsworth, Conn receiving 3 votes and Elsworth receiving 2 votes. No choice. The two assessors are Wesley Van Aken of St. Remy and Harold Story of Ulster Park.

Arthur Pease, mechanic at Merritt Every's garage on Broadway, has returned from New York city where he attended the automobile show.

Miss L. B. Wynkoop, R. N., is spending some time at her home on Green street.

It has been remarked by so many people of Port Ewen that the garage of Merritt Every on Broadway was exceptionally large but if these same people could see the interior of the garage now filled with automobiles they would change their tune as Mr. Every has to park cars outside on account of being filled up.

A special meeting of the fire company will be held Tuesday evening at the fire house on Broadway. Final arrangements for the fair to be held the 6, 7, 8, and 9 of February will be made. It is absolutely necessary that all members of the committees be present at this meeting.

SINCLAIR PRODUCES DESIRED DOCUMENTS.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 22.—The expected break between Harry F. Sinclair and the senate oil investigating committee failed to materialize today.

The oil magnate, under subpoena, at resumption of hearings this morning, presented the committee with a certified copy of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the Hyva Corporation, a Sinclair family owned investment company, which he refused to produce last week.

The subpoena ordered Sinclair to bring all records and transactions of the Hyva Company, which controls large holdings of stock of the Mammoth Oil Company, a Sinclair subsidiary operating the oil fields at Tea Pot Dome, Wyoming.

HARVEY DENIES SPLIT WITH HUGHES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 22.—From the steamer Olympic, on which he is returning to his post as ambassador to Great Britain, Col. George Harvey denied a flat and unequivocal denial today that there were any disagreements between himself and Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes over questions of America's foreign policies.

On the contrary, Col. Harvey said, he found himself "in full and complete accord" with Mr. Hughes.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 22.—The stock market was generally lower at the start today.

Baldwin Locomotive yielded 1/4 to 1 1/2, Studebaker 1/4 to 1 1/4, Pierce Arrow 1/4 to 1 1/2, Utah Copper 1/4 to 3/4, New York Central 1-3 to 3/4 and Pan American Petroleum 1/4 to 5/8. Trading was dull.

Only a few stocks showed action enough in the first hour to demand special comment. Baldwin was forced down over 1 point to below 132.

Studebaker ranged from 114 to 113 1/2 and U. S. Steel reached to 105 1/2. U. S. Steel and Tube preferred rose nearly 3 points to 106 1/2. Pan American Petroleum declined a point.

Price movements became more pronounced in the trading in the market in the afternoon than it had been at any time during the day.

Offerings coming into the market found a lack of bids and sales could only be made at substantial concessions. Standard Oil of California yielded 1 1/2 to 5/8 and California Petroleum dropped to 75 1/2. U. S. Steel was off 1 point at 105.

Value of Leaves in the Fall.
Decay of leaves and woodland vegetation forms rich and fertile soils in the forests in which conditions are favorable for the development of new tree growth, says the School Book of Forestry, issued by the American Tree association, Washington. When living tree seeds are exposed to proper amounts of moisture, warmth and air, in a fertile soil, they will sprout and grow. A root develops which pushes its way down into the soil, while the leaf-bud of the plant, which springs from the other end of the seed, works its way upward toward the light and air. This leafy part of the seed finally forms the stem of the tree.

Nationalistic Habit in Eating.
Travelers in foreign countries may often be observed trying to order a dinner as nearly resembling a proper British one as possible. They may even be heard assuming a proper British pride in the avoidance of "foreign messes." Similarly, we have read lately of the mingled plights and scorn of American visitors to London who have been fobbed at breakfast with bacon and eggs instead of being properly served with grapefruit and ice water. Such settlement in habit is a sorry limitation. It cuts a man off from a whole world of the new experience which a holiday abroad should afford.—London Telegraph.

Pops.
He was the first of the writers of great Anna's time whom I knew, and he made me ready to understand, if he did not make me understand at once, the order of mind and life which he belonged to. Thanks to his pastorals, he could long afterward enjoy with the double sense requisite for full pleasure in them, such divinely excellent artificialities as Tasso's Aminta and Guarini's Pastor Fido; things which you will thoroughly like only after you are in the joke of thinking how people seriously liked them as high examples of poetry.—W. D. Howells.

Ascend of Sap in Trees.
The question of the ascent of sap in trees is not yet settled, according to an eminent American scientist. It appears that in the highest trees the total pressure required would be nearly 100 atmospheres, according to what we know of the vessels through which the sap passes in the trunk. We cannot suppose that the leaves exercise so intense an osmotic action, and the sole hypothesis that has any probability is that some sort of pumping action is exerted in the wood by the living cells. But it is not clear how this could be. Therefore the question still remains open.

Raphael's Supreme Madonna.
The Madonna di San Sisto was executed by Raphael as an altarpiece for the Church of St. Sisto at Piacenza in northern Italy. It is perhaps the most widely known of his works, and is universally regarded as his supreme effort. It was painted between 1517 and 1520. It is not known when or by whom it was removed to Dresden, though probably this occurred during the reign of Frederick Augustus II, king of Saxony, who occupied the throne from 1773 to 1854. This ruler did more than any of his predecessors to embellish Dresden.

SENATE RESTLESS ON FOREIGN POLICY

Johnson, Moses, Borah and McCormack Awaiting Chance to Criticize Hughes—Will Refrain Pending His Report on Boyden.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 22.—With the situation in Europe daily becoming more tense, and the position of the United States consequently all the more delicate, the senate showed signs today of again subjecting American foreign policy to heated debate in open forum.

Long smouldering dissatisfaction with the policy being pursued abroad by Secretary of State Hughes, is expected to flare up before the week is out, with the administration policy under attack from several different quarters.

The senate itself is torn with dissension over American policy in the present crisis. Roughly, there are three factions:

1.—The Democrats who naturally are opposed to the administration policy.

2.—The old irreconcilable Republican group containing Senators Johnson, Borah, Moses, McCormack, La Follette, Brandegee, and such Democrats as Reed of Missouri.

3.—The more conservative Republican majority who are inclined to ride with the administration in its present policy of "watchful waiting."

Johnson, Borah, Moses and McCormack were said today to have speeches either prepared or in course of preparation, criticizing the Hughes policy in vigorous fashion.

It is not likely any move in the situation will be made in the senate until Secretary Hughes has submitted to the foreign relations committee the "full information" it desires concerning Col. Boyden's status. The Hughes report is expected not later than Wednesday.

"All-of-a-Sudden Peggy," the play that will be given by the High School Athletic Association on Tuesday evening, January 30, has been recommended for high school productions by people prominent in educational circles. The play is divided into three acts, as follows:

VALLEY LEAGUE
IS REPLACED

Port Jervis and Middletown Schools to be Included—Constitution and By-Laws Being Drawn Up—Another Meeting, February 2.

The superintendents of schools and the principals of the high schools of Middletown Port Jervis, Kingston Newburgh and Poughkeepsie and the physical directors of the last named school met at the Palace Hotel in Newburgh last Saturday. At this meeting it was definitely decided to form a new interscholastic league composed of the above named schools which league will take the place of the present Hudson Valley Interscholastic League.

Although no constitution was drawn up at this time the principals and superintendents did decide that no player could play more than four years from the date of his entry into any school. If a student should leave and then return and it is more than four years since he entered the freshman class he is automatically ineligible for further participation in league athletics. Due to the fact that the different schools all had different opinions on what the scholastic requirements should be for competition it was decided to leave this matter to the discretion of the boards of education of the different cities.

A constitution and by-laws for the new league will be drawn up within the next week which will be submitted to the various schools and acted upon by them at a meeting to be held in Newburgh on February 2. The state department of physical education has already drawn up a set of rules for competition in basketball and track and these rules will be used in so far as possible in drawing up a constitution for the league.

It was decided at the meeting to open the baseball season on April 22. A competition will be carried on between the five schools making up the new league. The league football season will open on October 20 and continue to November 24. Each team will engage the other teams in the league once during the season instead of twice as has been the custom in past years.

COUL WORTHY OF RESPECT, SAYS CONTRIBUTOR.

Editor, The Freeman
The article published on your editorial page of Thursday the 18th, "Cousins, Where Art Thou?" need not, I believe, be taken too seriously, since

"A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the wisest men."

Even Cousin himself might well appreciate the happy mood into which the interpretation of his philosophy tempted the astute gentleman with facetious pen.

"Tribute to whom tribute is due" is a biblical command—one of fairness and justice and I am certain that the individual who is capable of uplifting the thoughts of humanity above the sordid and the untrue—who alleviates human suffering—in stills hope and faith in the minds of the despairing is worthy of our respect and kindly consideration. In conclusion "A merry heart, doeth good like a medicine."
